

Barry S. Krostich, CPA

Director

Barry Krostich, CPA, is a Director in the Hauppauge, New York, office of the Fuoco Group and TFG Related Entities. In this role he supervises and develops the staff, and manages the workflow as well as the overall operations of the office. Barry is also a member of the Fuoco Group Executive Committee.

Having more than 35 years of accounting experience has impressed on Barry the importance of maintaining the same hands on and full service approach with his clients that he did when working in his family's accounting business. Practicing alongside his Father and Brothers at Krostich & Krostich LLP, he learned a large firm capability meant little without good customer service.

Since 2009, when Krostich & Krostich merged with Fuoco Group and Barry was appointed a Director of the Firm, he has maintained his high level of involvement with the local business community as well as with charitable organizations and non-profits in the New York and Long Island Area.

Whether the client is an individual, small business owner, or international company with U.S. operations, Barry brings a high level of expertise to the table as well as a depth and breadth of experience that is coveted in the industry. Barry's portfolio of services include:
